PA NEW OBSERVES

Jack Young, the dog catcher told Pa News this morning that he is training another police dog to be a second assistant dog catcher. Young is confident that the other dog will be just as good at the job as the present one.

Pa News thinks it would be a good idea if a mail box was placed at some convenient spot near the new post office. The post office corridor is closed at 12 o'clock and there are no boxes outside in which to deposit mail.

Weather followers may look askance at the temperature report today, which gives nine degrees as the minimum temperature. This was the reading at 9 o'clock yesterday morning, when the thermometers were set.

This is the annual date of celebration at Niles, Ohio, a short distance across the border line in Ohio. It is the anniversary of the birth of the martyred president, William McKinley.

Anent the suggestion that improvement of Franklin avenue would give a new route to Cascade Park and relieve congestion on East Washington street, it is suggested that the improvement of Cascade street has already provided another fine route to Cascade Park for traffic next summer over improved roads, via Butler avenue and Cascade street.

When it comes to attractiveness, Young Pa News believes that license plates from the state of New Hampshire are just the thing. A white back ground and green numerals compose the N. H. plates. A vehicle bearing plates from that state was parked in front of The News Monday afternoon.

Governor Submits His Labor Program To State Legislature

HARRISBURG, Jan. 29.—Gov. George H. Earle's constitutional revision bill today rode toward final passage in the house where the Democratic majority was prepared to accord his newly outlined labor legislation program the same unobstructed "honeymoon" route.

The governor submitted his labor program, the second phase of his "new deal" plan for Pennsylvania, in another personal appearance before the legislature last night. Accompanying the message were nine bills, headed by a state NRA act, drafted by Attorney General Charles J. Margiotti.

"Because there exists in business as in society in general a selfish minority reaping easy and huge profits through its ability to exploit humanity, it has become necessary to seek protection against this element through laws which, while specifically directed against these economic parasites, must of course subject all to their provisions," the governor told the legislature.

Pledge New Deal
"And so to protect not only the wage earners of this commonwealth but also those employers who are endeavoring to maintain the 'square deal' in their mines, mills, factories, stores and offices, it is necessary and imperative that new laws be placed on our statute books and the other laws be amended so that this minority shall be prohibited and prevented from dragging the majority down to their low levels."

(International News Service)
TOKIO, Jan. 29.—A clash between Soviet-controlled Mongol troops and Japanese-led Manchukuoans appeared inevitable today as reports from Manchukuo told of increasingly strong forces from outer Mongolia occupying small posts across the frontier in Northwestern Manchukuo.

The Japanese war office placed the blame directly upon Soviet influence, and the Vernacular newspaper quoted an official spokesman as bluntly saying that if the Mongols persist in remaining, Manchukuoan troops "will drive them out."

STATE DIRECTOR IS REORGANIZING

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Jan. 29.—Continuing his reorganization of the state's relief system, Robert L. Johnson, new state emergency relief director, today requested the resignations of members of area and local relief boards in five western Pennsylvania counties effective as of February 15.

The boards affected were those in area 7, comprising Centre and Clearfield counties, and area 8, Venango, Clarion and Forest counties, and the individual county boards. Although Johnson did not discuss his action it was learned the resignations were part of his plan to decentralize the relief system and reduce costs. The Fayette county board was asked to resign a few days ago.

"We have been investigating the situation in area No. 7 with a representative from this office on the ground for four days," Johnson said. "Two other representatives also were in the county."

"It is felt that there is an urgent need for a strong advisory board in both area 7 and area 8 and it seems to me that the first step in providing that advisory board would be to ask the present board step aside temporarily until our reorganization plans are completed."

New Castle To Join Dancers Of Nation Wednesday Night

Uncle Sam is going dancing Wednesday night. From Walla Walla to Sag Harbor the old boy and his wife Miss Columbia, are going to take a night off and step. In the well known teeming cities and the not so well known hinterland there will be balls honoring the President of the United States, and at the same time aiding the fight against Infantile Paralysis.

Just a year ago the balls were held in every state for the purpose of building a fund for the Warm Springs Foundation in Georgia. This year the proceeds are not applied to Warm Springs but remain for the most part in the communities. Seventy per cent of the profits of the ball to be held in the Cathedral tomorrow night remain right here at home and will be divided equally between the Jameson Memorial and the New Castle hospitals. Hauptmann Thinks He Will Be Acquitted

By KENNETH T. DOWNS

FLEMINGTON, N. J., Jan. 29.—"I am ready to let the jury decide any time—today already. They are not fooled yet. They know who is right and so I am not afraid."

Thus Bruno Richard Hauptmann today blandly forecast his acquittal on the charge of murdering Charles Augustus Lindbergh, Jr., as he went into the third day of as bitter a cross-examination as any defendant ever faced in a major American criminal trial.

The putty complexioned man, who has not known the warmth of sunlight for nearly four months declared to C. Lloyd Fisher, one of his defense lawyers, that he felt fine before going in the courtroom for another battle of wits and tempers with the attorney general David T. Wilentz this morning.

Jurors Not Fooled
Fisher said the defendant expressed the wish the case would come to a conclusion soon, feeling sure the jury will not convict him on the evidence submitted.

"I wish it would finish quick, because those people (the jurors) are not fooled," Fisher quoted Hauptmann as saying.

Hauptmann, looking more alive and confident, than at any time since the trial opened, appeared to be far from "breaking down and confessing on the stand" as members of the aggressive prosecution staff predicted he would under Wilentz's vicious cross-examination.

When Wilentz shouted that, in spite of Hauptmann's explanations, his statements were lies, lies, lies, the defendant's temper flamed to white heat and he shouted: "You lied at me too."

On only one other occasion did Hauptmann lose his temper during the lashing cross-examination. That was when Wilentz insinuated Hauptmann had dumped the earnings of the hard-working Mrs. Hauptmann in the stock market then had attempted casting her off.

HAUPTMANN FLOUNDERS SEVERAL TIMES DURING HIS CROSS-EXAMINATION

Falls Into Two Traps In Answers Made During Morning

RANSOM MONEY
STORY IS PROBED

Says He "Divided Money To Be On Safe Side If Any Trouble Came Up"

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
International News Service Staff

COURTROOM, FLEMINGTON, N. J., Jan. 29.—Bruno Richard Hauptmann fell into two traps while undergoing a gentle, deceptive cross-examination today at the hands of Attorney General David T. Wilentz.

Hauptmann blundered into one trap when he was explaining how he happened to take the Lindbergh ransom money he said he found in a shoe box in his home and hid it in three separate lots. He said:

"I put $12,000 in a can, $2,000 in a bundle, and $800 more in another place. If any trouble came up, I would be on the safe side."

Wilentz immediately leaped at this opening and quickly asked: "What trouble?"

"What trouble were you afraid of?" Hauptmann looked astonished and did not answer until he was prodded. Wilentz had to ask three more times. Hauptmann then mumbled: "Maybe Mr. Fisch wouldn't believe me when I gave him the money."

He meant Pincus Fisch, brother of the late Isidor Fisch. Isidor was dead and Hauptmann had said Isidor left the shoe box full of money in his safekeeping, not telling him what it was.

"Do you mean to say you hid the money so the family of Isidor Fisch couldn't get it? You have already testified you were going to give the money to the Fisch family?" Hauptmann's answers were extremely confused and Wilentz left the matter at that point and drew him into the second trap.

Wilentz began to question Hauptmann about the amount of money

When the light turns to red, use your judgment and head, you'll find that it pays you I mean, if you'll stand there and wait, though by seconds you're late, don't cross till the red turns to green. You may do it a while but old Fate merely smiles, for you're headed the hospital way, take a tip and just stop, till the green lets you hop it's cool still at thirty today.

MEDICAL WORLD WATCHES PECULIAR CASE

Leaders Join In Battling Anemia

Nobel Prize Winner Heads Effort To Save Young Rochester Bride

STRANGE FEATURES MARK WOMAN'S CASE

(International News Service)
ROCHESTER, N. Y., Jan. 29.—Thanks to a 1934 Nobel prize winner and his associates and virtually the entire medical profession of the United States, a young Rochester bride, stricken with a rare form of pernicious anemia, today appeared to be making progress in her battle for life.
Seldom, if ever in medical annals, has such an imposing array of recognized talent been lined up on a specific case of illness. The patient, Mrs. Solomon G. Loeb, fell a victim to the strange malady when on her honeymoon several months ago.
When she failed to respond to early treatment her case was brought to the attention of Dr. George H. Whipple, dean of the University of Rochester Medical school, who with Dr. George Minot and Dr. William P. Murphy, both of Harvard, won the Nobel prize for effecting a cure for pernicious anemia.
For a time it appeared as though Mrs. Loeb was well on the way to complete recovery. But suddenly there was a relapse. Released from the strong Memorial hospital, the woman went home for Christmas, only to be taken back to the hospital several weeks ago. One of the strangest phases of the strange malady from which the woman is suffering is recurring periods of recovery and relapse.

The figures for the payroll for the past week shows a total of 2,541 employees and a total of $27,779. This is exclusive of the administrative and employment office payrolls which would add about 125 employees.
Several weeks ago the total employed was approximately 4,000 and the payroll in the neighborhood of $50,000. Acting Director of the RWD, W. Leslie Wilson, has a number of projects in Harrisburg for approval but until they are authorized he can do nothing here.

FINAL VOTE ON COURT IS NEAR

Senators Johnson (R) of California and Borah (R) of Idaho, leaders of the anti-court fight, base their hopes of victory on the terrific popular opposition to the court, as expressed in the telegrams. In a parliamentary way, these two senators carried senate debate to a point where the issue was whether the United States should follow the advice of George Washington, Thomas Jefferson and Theodore Roosevelt to beware of foreign entangling alliances.

Stavisky Scandal Is Being Revived

Former Attorney General Of France Dies Suddenly At Home In Paris

(International News Service)
PARIS, Jan. 29.—The nation-rocking $40,000,000 Stavisky pawnshop scandal threatened to break wide open again today with the mysterious death of former attorney general George Pressard, a man linked closely with the financial dealings of the late Alexander Stavisky, master swindler, and once accused as largely responsible for "covering up" the fraudulent Stavisky operations.
Pressard, 69, died suddenly today, almost at the very hour the government's year-long judicial investigation of the scandal ended.
Government and financial circles were highly excited as an unconfirmed report spread that Pressard, a brother-in-law of Camille Chauvemp, who was premier at the time the scandal broke, had committed suicide.

RE-ELECT ROUND HEAD OF COUNTY SCOUT COUNCIL

gregation served the dinner. Part of it took place in the Sunday School auditorium upstairs.
Surprise For Mr. Rentz
Staged entirely as a surprise, the presentation of the Silver Beaver award to Mr. Rentz, president of The News and generous supporter of youth movements here, came at the banquet table. President Round was presiding and he called upon Scout Commissioner Davis for a report of the Beaver award group which comprises the present holders of a Beaver honor.
Commissioner Davis then announced that the Beaver award was ready and the Rev. A. M. Stump, pastor of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran church, himself a holder of a Beaver, called Mr. Rentz forward.
Before the four present Beavers, Rev. Stump, Mr. Davis, Mr. Round and J. A. Pearson, the latter of Ellwood City, Mr. Rentz received the beautiful blue and white neckband carrying the silver beaver and a certificate citing his "service of an outstanding nature to the boy life of this community." The certificate carried the signatures of President Roosevelt, honorary head of the Boy Scouts; W. A. Head, president of the Boy Scouts and other national leaders of the movement.
Makes Response
After formally being introduced into the Order of Silver Beavers, Mr. Rentz thanked the group in a brief speech of acceptance.
A pioneer in Boy Scout work in Lawrence County, an active backer of Scouting and the Y. M. C. A. and a man whose genuine interest in boy life, Mr. Rentz, the Beavers believed, was most deserving of the recognition which the National Boy Scouts of America bestows.
The Beaver award ceremony followed another feature of the evening's program, an innovation so far as annual banquets are concerned.
Commissioner Davis again was called upon by Mr. Round to present scout youths who have reached twenty-one years of age, "nevy citizens" they are to be called locally, and who are still active in the leadership capacities of Boy Scout troops.

Presented To Mayor
To President Round fell the task of presenting the 13 boys to Mayor Charles B. Mayne, who welcomed them as "nevy citizens" in behalf of the community. The mayor, in his brief but well chosen remarks, told the two young men who represented the 13 of the responsibilities of citizenship.
The downstairs program was not long in duration, but upstairs awaited a full evening's program of presentations and speeches.
Coming here from Philadelphia, Mr. Calahan, former scout executive here, brought to the local audience a challenge to give their continued support to the Boy Scout movement. He warned against out-and-out anti-patriotic movements, like the Young Pioneers of America, that are now gaining headway in many sections of Pennsylvania. Much of his remarks centered about "gang life" and his message urged Boy Scout leaders to create more troops so that gangs of boys will receive proper direction. Dr. G. S. Bennett introduced him.
Assisting President Round as he presided in the upstairs program were various council officers and Scout Executive Herbert G. Horton.
Receive Commendation
The audience saw six uniformed scouts of Troop V-18 of Highland church, march out before them to receive official commendation for the "greatest progress in troop appearance."

Appearing were Scouts George Stitzinger, John Clarke, William Batten, Robert Green, Don Woodworth and Chauncey Schaller.
Just before the boys were cited, Scoutmaster Harry Miles of Troop V-18, with his assistant scoutmasters, George Winter and Cy Schaller, had gone forward to accept the banner which that honor brings.
Scoutmaster Miles, in behalf of the scoutmasters of the troops in Deputy Commissioner Elmer Tinstman district, also accepted the deputy commissioner's trophy for troop achievement during 1934.

Leadership Diplomas
A group of 17 troop leaders of the county received attractive leadership diplomas from Browne K. Thacker. Receiving them were Frank Hay, Jerome Dadds, J. Arthur Turek, J. Gierlach, Harry Miles, Walter Green, William Dickinson, A. L. Howard, Elmer Tinstman, Wilfred Paul, Robert Allen, C. W. Kettner, James Clark, Ralph Main, George Besser, Dr. T. B. Magee and James McCowin.
At the close of the program came the introduction of Miss Grace Cummings, office secretary of the Scouts.
Scouters at the class of Rev. Stump at the close, arose and saluted Scoutmaster Director Calahan as a mark of respect, just as earlier in the evening they had saluted the newest Beaver, Mr. Rentz.
Benediction was pronounced by Rev. Stump.
The evening's dinner invocation had been pronounced by the Rev. P. C. Pearson, rector of Trinity Episcopal church.

Attending the council banquet last night were leaders in public and business and professional life of New Castle and Ellwood City.
Ellwood City's preparations for celebrating the 25th anniversary of the Boy Scout movement, commencing on Friday, February 8, were reported earlier in the evening by Charles W. Carbeau, prominent Ellwood resident.
New Citizens
Boys who were presented as "new citizens" last night by Commissioner Davis included: Kimmell B. Barbour, John W. Hancher, Alfred Stump, Jr., W. Bruce Wright, Alfons Szamre, Richard R. Hermann, Ernest G. Lutz, William Brown, Ralph Montgomery, Harold E. Aggas, Alfred L. Howard, Jack L. Hainsworth and Howard Gages. Part of the boys presented are now 22 years old.
The council, during its election, chose the following 25 county representatives as councilmen-at-large: W. G. Ayres, Charles A. Bolen, R. L. Boyd, Frank L. Burton, Alfred W. Chilton, DeLoe Cole, A. Bruce Ewing, Rev. D. L. Ferguson, Dr. C. P. Galbreath, Jack Gerson, Dr. C. C. Green, Rabbi A. J. Grossfeld, B. B. Hawkins, Dr. E. F. Henderson, Bernard H. Hook, E. D. Marvin, Rex L. Keed, Charles E. McGrath, Dr. J. L. Reed, Fred L. Rentz, Dr. B. E. Sankey, W. A. Toner, Rev. Norris A. White, Dr. Paul H. Wilson and Earl Wimer.

Income Tax
NO. 2
FORMS FOR MAKING RETURNS
Forms for filing returns of income for 1934 have been sent to persons who filed returns last year. Failure to receive a form, however, does not relieve a taxpayer of his obligation to file his return and pay the tax on time, on or before March 15 if the return is made on the calendar year basis, as is the case with most individuals.
Forms may be obtained upon request, written or personal, from the offices of collectors of internal revenue and deputy collectors. Persons whose net income for 1934 was derived chiefly from salary or wages and was not in excess of $5,000 should make their returns on form 1040A, a single sheet. Persons whose net income was in excess of $5,000, or regardless of amount, was derived from a business, profession, rents or sale of property are required to use a larger form 1040. Failure to use the proper form presents difficulties to both the taxpayer and the Bureau of Internal Revenue. Therefore it is emphasized that a taxpayer engaged in a business or profession from which he derived a net income of less than $5,000 is required to use the larger form.
The return must be filed with the collector of internal revenue for the district in which the taxpayer has his legal residence or principal place of business on or before midnight of March 15, 1935. The tax may be paid in full at the time of filing the return or in four equal installments, due on or before March 15, June 15, September 15, and December 15.

CHARLES YEE, OF CROTON AVENUE FINED BY MAYOR
Charles Yee, Croton avenue laundryman, today was a defendant before Mayor Charles B. Mayne in police court, charged with having transacted business without having taken out a mercantile license. The specific reason for his arrest was that he was alleged to have sold cigarettes for 10 cents a package to two boys, 13 and 14 years of age, respectively, recently.
Constable Frank Connors learned that boys were purchasing cigarettes there and requested the assistance of Detectives Chief W. G. McMullin. Two boys who came from the laundry, according to a police report, had cigarettes and alleged they had bought them from Yee. He was taken before Squire Ewing and the fire and costs totalled $32.00, which were paid.
Yee then was taken into police court and today was fined $5.00. His attorney, stated an appeal would be taken.

DEPRESSION PARTY UP-TO-DATE AFFAIR

Appropriately costumed to portray their parts, Octava club associates felt the depression keenly, Saturday evening, when they had that kind of a party at the Fairmont avenue home of Mrs. Harold Fyfe.

Ragged clothes, old hats, tattered hose and run-down-at-the-heels shoes were the most fashionable outfits, but the prize fell to Mrs. Morton Taylor, who wore a dress made of old flour sacks, for most vividly picturing the spirit of the times.

The group of sixteen guests had a merry time throughout the evening, bridge contributing to the enjoyment. Card favors were captured by Mrs. Oliver Smith and Robert Adams.

For a buffet lunch, there were hot dogs, baked beans and coffee, accompanied by newspaper napkins, to "save" the guests' attire. Candlelight added to the gloomy atmosphere of the occasion which was enjoyed as a novelty by the husbands, as well as the women. Mrs. Kenneth Wiley was an aide.

Thursday evening of this week, the club will have a meeting in the home of Mrs. Robert Adams, on Fairmont avenue.

MUSIC LOVERS HEAR SPLENDID PROGRAM

One of the most enjoyable programs thus far this season, was heard at the meeting of the Music club Monday evening, in Highland U. P. church, with Miss Ruth Drescher as hostess. The program consisted chiefly of works of modern impressionistic composers.

It is said that music lovers, in listening to new music, do not like to be roused from their attitude of comfort. While much of the music, last evening, was strange to the audience, and its subtleties could not be instantly grasped, it was heard with the keenest pleasure and received with enthusiasm.

Interesting notes concerning modern composers and their compositions were given by Mrs. Burr Rogers. Piano compositions of Debussy, Charles T. Griffes, Jacques Ibert, Rachmaninoff, Wagner and Chopin were given splendid interpretations by Misses Kathryn Newberry, Kathryn Lewis, Dorothy Fisher, Mary Patterson, Virginia Woods and Camille Smith.

Songs by Bainbridge Christ, Campbell-Tipton, Koeneke, Hallock Gilberte, Henry Purcell, Ruth Vandellip, Sidney Homer and Albert A. Taylor, the latter of this city, were sung by Mrs. Paul Weller, Mrs. Harry Gormley, Richard E. Johns, and Sam McCleary. Accompanists included Mrs. Jay L. Reed, Mrs. W. M. Welsh, Miss Helen Ewing and Albert A. Taylor.

Ushers for the evening were Misses Ruth Woodworth, Elizabeth Williams, Violet Shuler and Elizabeth Emery.

Applicants for active membership in the club, were heard by the executive board preceding the program, and choral practice was held afterwards. The next meeting is scheduled for February 25 with Mrs. Clifford Probst hostess.

QUOTA DISCUSSES CONSUMERS TRAINING

At the regular Quota club meeting held in the Elks club, Monday evening, the topic of the day was "Consumer Training."

The informative discussion was led by Quotarian Marian Ferver, of New Wilmington. The basis of the discussion was a report of research work completed by the American Association of University Women, in Washington, in which it was shown that the object of all consumer training is to teach buyers to define their own need, so manufacturers and retailers will know what the buying public wants for its money.

Quotarian Martha Bigley, chairman of the ticket committee for the President's Ball Wednesday evening, made several announcements about the event of the week. Attractive New Year books, outlining plans for the next six months, were distributed.

The next regular meeting of Quota, on February 4, will be featured by an anniversary dinner in the Elks club.

"FELT MISERABLE MOST OF THE TIME"

Then Kellogg's ALL-BRAN Checked Her Constipation*

Read Mrs. Marsden's letter: "I have been a subject of constipation" for the last 11 years. I felt miserable and irritable most of the time. My husband is a manager of a chain store. He said 'Why don't you try Kellogg's ALL-BRAN?'

"ALL-BRAN helped me right away. I have taken it now for the past 5 months, and I am as regular as a clock. My health is fine, and I am full of pep."—Mrs. Charles Marsden, 681 Merrick St., Detroit, Mich.

*Constipation due to insufficient "bulk" in meals.

ALL-BRAN provides gentle "bulk" to aid regular habits. It also supplies vitamin B and iron.

The "bulk" of ALL-BRAN is more effective than the "bulk" in fruits and vegetables, as it does not break down within the body. Two table-spoonfuls daily are usually sufficient. If not corrected this way, see your doctor.

Isn't this food much pleasanter and safer than risking patent medicines? Get the red-and-green package at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

D. D. 500 Club Meets
Mrs. Lyle Wimer of East Washington street, had as guests in her home Monday evening, the D. D. 500 club members. Three tables of cards held their attention during the early hours, trophies for honor scores being captured by Mrs. Orville Potter and Mrs. Fred Nicklin. As a special guest, the hostess had Mrs. Carrie Shaffer.

In serving lunch, Mrs. Carl Staebler assisted the menu being attractively appointed in suggestions of the season.

February 11 marks the date of the next gathering. Mrs. Wilton Wood of East Washington street will entertain jointly with Mrs. Jesse Kennedy in the home of the former.

Delta Class Meets

The members of the Delta class of the First Baptist church were graciously received Monday evening in the home of Blanche Lorenz, Winter avenue, for the monthly social session, with Miss Irene McClelland as a special guest.

At the business session it was decided to change the meeting date from the last to the first Monday of the month. Music, contests and conversation featured the evening until a late hour, when the guests were invited to the dining room, where the table was prettily appointed in pink and white, with a bowl of cut flowers forming the centerpiece. Refreshments were served by candlelight; the hostess being assisted by her sister, Bertha Lorenz, and Irene McClelland.

Bestyette Club Change
The meeting scheduled for the Bestyette Bridge club members on Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. David Leonardson on Highland avenue, has been postponed until February 14.

Hauptmann Flounders Several Times

he had hidden in his trunk in February 1933. Hauptmann said, casually he had some $750 in the trunk.

Q—How much in December, 1933?
A—About the same.

Q—How much in December 1932?
A—About the same—about $750.

Q—Well, how much did you have in June 1932?

In Second Trap

A—(After a long pause) about $1,000. It was not over $1,500. Now, I can explain—

Q—(Interrupting) you don't have to explain this money. I just want you to be sure on the amount. Are you sure there was not over $1,500 in the trunk?

A—Yes.

At this point, a brief recess was called and Wilentz went back to the prosecution table with a broad smile on his face. Yesterday Hauptmann had testified he had put $4,000 which he had "held out" on his wife, Anna, in that trunk.

Earlier in his testimony today, Hauptmann denied he had known Violet Sharpe, maid in the Morrow home at Englewood, N. J., who committed suicide during the Lindbergh investigation. He said he did not know any members of the Lindbergh household prior to the date of the kidnapping—March 1, 1932.

He denied he had shown a friend, Fritz Hahn, restaurant man, money secreted in a victrola in his (Hauptmann's) home.

Hauptmann was closely interrogated concerning his bank deposits and his operations in the Wall Street market. Hauptmann insisted Isidor Fisch was operating with him in the market, although Fisch never gave a broker an order. Hauptmann said he bought and sold for both of them.

Questioned About $14,600

Wilentz questioned him about the $14,600 ransom money found on the Hauptmann premises and asked him:

"Why did you hide the money in the garage?"

"I had to hide it some place," said Hauptmann, blandly.

When court recessed after a recess, Wilentz asked Hauptmann how much money he had in May, 1932. Hauptmann did not remember.

"In May I took out $1,500 and put in furs," the witness said.

Q—Then that left you with $1,000 to $1,500 on June 1, 1932?

A—Yes.

Q—And in May you had $2,500 in that trunk.

A—Yes.

Q—And a few minutes ago you spoke of your planned trip to Europe, you said:

"One that is planned for a year already." That's your method of speech?

A—What can I say otherwise?

Q—Couldn't you say "for more than a year?"

A—That's how you would say.

Edward J. Reilly, chief defense counsel, objected, saying the question was "an unjust and improper inference."

Wilentz let the matter drop but before doing so, read a phrase from one of the ransom notes which said:

"This kidnapping was planned for a year already."

Then the attorney general read a question and answer from Hauptmann's morning testimony:

"You were planning a trip to Germany, weren't you?"

Hauptmann's answer was:

"That was planned for a year already."

Wilentz quoted Hauptmann as having said to the police when he was questioned about going to the Federal Reserve bank with money:

"I was afraid they would hook me up."

Hauptmann said the police asked him so many questions he could not remember having said that.

Q—What were you afraid of being hooked up to?

A—I don't remember saying that.

Q—You made a mistake when you first told them you didn't know where a Federal Reserve bank was and then you corrected yourself?

A—Yes.

Wilentz pointed out Hauptmann had said he had $120 in gold and asked:

"Didn't you know it was illegal?"

"Yes," admitted Hauptmann.

Made Up Packages

Hauptmann admitted he had made up the $1,000 packages from the ransom money he found in his house.

Q—Did you get 15 of these packages, an even 15?

A—No, two of them didn't have quite a thousand dollars and I put some money—$700 or $800—in the board.

Q—This money you put in your garage, you wrapped it up yourself?

A—Yes.

Q—Once you nailed the money in the board on the wall so nobody could see, you didn't disturb it again, did you?

A—No.

Q—Where did you put the last two packages?

A—On the shelf.

Hauptmann described how he stuffed $840 cash into the five holes of the two-by-four in his garage.

"I didn't count the single bills," he said. "They were rolled up."

Hauptmann said when he went to California in July, 1931, he took the $4,300 from his trunk, put it in a satchel and left it with an uncle in Brooklyn.

Q—You didn't give the $4,300 to your broker?

A—I didn't like to put it in the stock market.

Q—You hid it at home. Your wife didn't know you had it.

A—No.

Q—You didn't want to put it in the bank or in the market?

A—No.

Q—What did you do with your money when you got back?

A—Put it back in the trunk.

Q—You didn't put that money in the garage, did you?

A—No. I had no garage then.

Q—When the police came to your home there was no money in that trunk, was there?

A—No.

Hauptmann was asked if his wife had the combination to the tin box where he kept his gold coins and he answered: "Yes."

Q—When the police came to your house you didn't have a dollar in that trunk, did you?

A—No, there wasn't any money in it then.

Wilentz asked why, if Hauptmann had wanted to hold out money on his wife, he had not deposited it in the bank. Hauptmann said she might find the bank book. He was unable to explain why he could not secrete a bank book as easily as cash.

Resumes Cross Examination

Courtroom, Flemington, N. J., Jan. 29.—Bruno Richard Hauptmann resumed the witness stand at 10:05 o'clock this morning for further cross-examination.

Hauptmann's pale face wore a cagy expression as he took his seat in the witness chair and faced the slim, black-haired Attorney General David T. Wilentz.

Q—(Wilentz)—Now, Mr. Defendant, you said that on April 2, 1932—the night the $50,000 ransom was paid—you had resigned that day?

A—Yes.

Q—You didn't resign because you got the $50,000 but because they only wanted to pay you $80 a month?

A—Yes.

In response to other questions, Hauptmann said that he started working the fifteenth of March, 1932, at the Majestic apartments in New York and that he received his pay at the end of the month.

Q—If you worked from March 21 to the end of the month, as the employment agency says, you would get $33.33?

A—I guess that would be right.

Hauptmann had been working as a carpenter at the apartments.

Hauptmann reiterated that the reason he quit his job was that he got only $80 when he was supposed to draw $100.

Q—At the end of March, 1932, you had already got your check?

A—Yes.

Q—You knew you were only getting $80, and not the $100, a month. Why didn't you quit then?

A—I never quit in the middle of the week. I always waited until Saturday.

Mrs. Hauptmann Watches Closely

Mrs. Anna Hauptmann watched her husband closely as he was testifying. She seemed to be trying to catch his eye as if to encourage him. The defense was expected to call her to the stand when Hauptmann's testimony is completed.

Wilentz showed Hauptmann a check made out to Richard Hauptmann and bearing a signature on the back.

Q—Is that signature yours.

A—Yes, that's the pay check, $36.67.

Q—You got that money from the Reliance Property Co.?

A—Yes, it's the pay check for the last of March.

The check was put in evidence by Wilentz.

Q—Well, when you found out you were only getting $80 a month, why didn't you quit at the end of the month on March 31, 1932?

A—(Smiling)—Well, I never quit a job in the middle of the week.

Q—Now see here, suppose you had worked only from March 21 to March 31, as the timekeeper from the building has testified you did—at the rate of $100 a month, as he said you did—your check for that month would then amount to $36.67. Isn't that right?

A—Well, I haven't figured that up.

Hauptmann admitted he cashed the pay check at the National Lumber and Millwork Company in the Bronx.

Q—That's the lumber yard where you worked?

A—Yes. I cashed the check on April 5, 1932.

Q—That's the lumber yard owned and operated by the Hirsch's?

A—Yes.

Know Violet Sharpe?

Hauptmann was asked by Wilentz if he knew Violet Sharpe, the maid in the home of the Morrises at Englewood, N. J. Mrs. Sharpe committed suicide while the Lindbergh case investigation was in progress. Hauptmann said he did not know her.

Q—You never heard of Violet Sharpe prior to March 1, 1932?

A—No.

Q—Never knew anyone in the Lindbergh household prior to that date?

A—No.

Wilentz began quizzing Hauptmann on his expenditures.

Q—In May 1932, you bought a radio?

A—Yes.

Q—How much did you pay?

A—$400.

Wilentz forced an admission that in July of 1932, then three months after the ransom payment, Hauptmann bought an expensive pair of field glasses.

Q—Didn't you pay $126 for these field glasses?

A—Yes.

Q—Did you ever own field glasses before?

A—Yes.

Q—Before you bought this radio you already had a victrola?

A—Yes.

Q—Where did you keep this victrola?

A—In the front room.

Money In Victrola

Wilentz asked him if in April, May and July of 1932 he had kept money in the victrola. He replied:

"The rent money maybe."

Q—I mean did you ever keep packages of money there?

A—No. I never had packages.

Q—Isn't it a fact that, particularly after April 2, 1932, you opened the victrola in the presence of Fritz Hahn, the restaurant owner, and there were two envelopes, 11 or 14 inches long and a few inches thick—2 envelopes of money?

A—Absolutely not.

Wilentz asked Hauptmann if Hahn did not ask him about this money in the victrola. Hauptmann could not remember. The witness did recall driving Hahn to Rye Beach with Mrs. Hahn and the Hahn baby.

Q—Your wife was in Europe then?

A—Yes.

Q—Don't you remember saying to Mr. Hahn, "This is the bedroom you can't come in?"

A—No, I did not say I did.

Q—Don't you remember Mr. Hahn asking you how much you were giving your wife for her trip to Germany and you said, "I guess $1,000?"

A—No.

Hauptmann at this point cast an amused, tolerant smile at the attorney general and said:

"I am getting the impression you are trying to make a big story."

Q—After you bought the new radio didn't you invite the Hahns down to hear it?

A—I don't know, he knows I got it.

Q—Weren't you told to say you think I am "making up a big story?"

A—No.

Wilentz asked Hauptmann who told him to tell about the dog he took him to a walk on the night of the kidnapping—March 1, 1932. Hauptmann had said he was calling on his wife that night to take her home from the restaurant in the Bronx where she was working. He said he took a police dog out for a walk while there.

Didn't Tell About Dog Before

"Nobody told me to tell about the dog," replied Hauptmann.

"Why didn't you speak about the dog when you were testifying in your extradition hearing in the Bronx?"

"I guess I knew it then but didn't think it important," said the witness.

Q—The issue in that court was where you were March 1, 1932.

A—Yes.

Q—You testified then that you went home with your wife and stayed home all night.

A—Yes.

Q—Who told you about the dog. A—I remember it from my own recollection.

Wilentz then turned to Hauptmann's trading in Wall Street.

Q—After April 2, 1932, you spent your time mostly in the stock market.

A—Yes.

Q—And you continued there up until 1934.

A—Yes.

Q—And you sold short, too, didn't you.

A—Yes.

Wilentz, in a sarcastic tone, said: "You learned all the tricks of the trade—puts, calls, long, short and so forth?"

Hauptmann calmly observed: "I made a few dollars."

Q—Did you have any business at all outside of this and your connection with Isidor Fisch.

A—No, except a few days work.

Where Did Silver Come From

When Wilentz asked Hauptmann where he got the large amount of silver he deposited, the witness said: "I'd like to show the jury them slips. On the deposit slip there is silver, bills, silver. Sometimes when I wrote it down I didn't write it in bills. I wrote it in silver."

Q—You mean, then, maybe the deposit slips show more deposits of silver than they should? That some of the silver should be bills?

A—Yes, yes, I'd like to see some of them slips.

"Take your time, you'll see them," Wilentz replied.

He found one of the deposit slips at the state's table.

The slip showed, in Hauptmann's handwriting, a deposit which included $186 in coins.

Q—Is that your handwriting?

A—Yes, but it was a mistake, that was $186 in bills.

Another slip showed "bills"—No silver. Another showed $3 in bills and $12 in coins. Another showed $50 in coins and $2 in bills.

Q—There's one for $259.75 in coins.

A—That's bills.

Q—But you can't get 75 cents out of a bill.

A—No.

Another slip for August 1932 showed coins amounting to $84. Another for the same month noted $40 worth of coins pouring into Hauptmann's bank accounts.

The state maintains he was speculating with the Lindbergh ransom and that's where all the silver arose.

Justice Thomas W. Trenchard walked over behind the witness and scrutinized the various slips Wilentz showed to Hauptmann.

At one point, when Wilentz began shooting in questions about his financial activities a little too fast, Hauptmann held up a warning hand and admitted:

"Now, don't try to mix me up."

Wilentz brought out that virtually all of the slips were on the Mount Vernon Trust Company. Suddenly, Wilentz said: "Now, here's one for $10 in silver deposited on April 16, 1932."

Hauptmann replied: "My wife was a little disgusted about so little money in the bank so I took some money from my house."

The deposit slips were passed to the jury so they could examine them.

Infer Ransom Bills Cashed

Wilentz was trying to bring out that Hauptmann deposited large sums of silver coins in his bank accounts after the ransom payment.

He was attempting to draw the inference that Hauptmann cashed in the ransom bills on small purchases and took the change to his banks.

Wilentz dwelt particularly on a deposit slip Hauptmann made out at the Mount Vernon Trust Company in August, 1932.

"Here you made a deposit of $259.75 in silver, didn't you?" demanded Wilentz.

"Yes," said Hauptmann.

Hauptmann was shown his account ledger. He admitted the ledger was his and that in it he kept his accounts and those of Isidor Fisch as well.

Q—The only part that's not correct is what you left out.

A—Yes.

Q—The book says you put up $17,500. Is that correct.

A—I put in $9,500 in stocks and $5,500 in cash.

Q—Then the $12,000 in stocks written in the book is incorrect.

A—Yes.

Asked when he and Fisch started their partnership, Hauptmann replied:

"The end of October 1933."

"Fisch never gave an order to the broker, did he?" asked Wilentz.

"No, but he usually called me up if he wanted something," said Hauptmann. "I acted for him. I handled some of his money?"

A—Yes.

Q—During that time neither you or your wife worked.

A—I made money in the market.

Q—You worked in the market? But not as a carpenter?

A—I worked as a carpenter.

Q—How much did you earn.

A—Couple a hundred dollars.

Q—So that from April, 1932, until September 1934, you earned a couple hundred dollars as a carpenter, and your wife didn't work at all?

A—Yes.

Hauptmann said his wife was not "disgusted" because he had quit his job as a carpenter, nor did she "holer at him" because he quit.

He admitted that on the day of his arrest he told the authorities he had been circulating gold certificates (part of the ransom money) for some time.

Q—Why were you circulating them, because you needed the money.

A—Oh, no, I didn't need the money. I could have put it in the box and left it there.

Q—You took it because you didn't want to take it out of your stock account. And if you needed gas, you'd take a $10 bill and change it.

A—Yes.

Q—And when your wife needed shoes, you took a $10 or $20 and bought the shoes?

A—Yes.

Circulated Ransom

Wilentz asked Hauptmann if, prior to the time he began circulating the ransom money, he was in the habit of taking money for expenses from his brokerage account.

"Yes, or my bank account," said Hauptmann.

Q—When you needed it for household expenses, you went to this gold and took out two or three at a time.

A—Four or five at a time.

AROUND
CITY HALL

Police chronology for 24 hours ending at 3:30 p. m. January 28, five arrests on charges of drunkenness.

Council has received two petitions from residents who want thoroughfares paved under the city's new plan. The petitions requested paving of Raymond street between Butler avenue and Oak street and Leisure avenue between North Mercer street and Wilmington avenue.

The petitions were referred to councilman committee. If an inspection shows that the majority of foot frontage is represented in the petition probabilities are that an ordinance providing for the improvements will be introduced.

The mayor's private office is considered by some people to be the clearing house for all troubles which beset persons. Some call there to have their domestic woes settled, others seek ways and means of securing financial help while others believe the mayor has nothing to do but set down and cure ills. One of the most peculiar calls of recent days arrived yesterday when a North Hill woman called and said that stray cute kitten was meowing in the street and inquired if the city had a cat catcher. No doubt the dog catcher would have attended to the situation but no premium has been set by the state on a cat's ears.

Nell Williams, attaché of the department of engineers has a weekly chore, which is the compilation of credit in delinquent taxes truck owners are entitled to. There are 21 persons who own trucks engaged in hauling material for RWD projects. The RWD pays the drivers 60 cents an hour and the city pays for the truck hire at a rate anywhere from 80 cents to $1.90 cents per hour. The price is set by City Engineer Harry Hoskins. The list compiled is sent to council then to the city solicitor and the amount is chalked up to the owners credit.

Inasmuch as the boxing show for the benefit of police equipment is a city hall baby it is only natural to report that city hall folks are getting ready to attend the boxing show at the Cathedral, February 13. Last summer the city hall folk were found sprinkled among the other thousands of spectators. Some of them witnessed a boxing show for the first time and were so pleased with the entertainment they plan to attend the coming event which like the preceding show will help secure equipment for the police department.

When a fire alarm caused the fire chief and the service truck to dash from the Central department in South Jefferson street at 1 p. m. yesterday it was pleasing to note the way autoists performed. As soon as they heard the siren of the fire chief's car and the truck they pulled to the right side of East Washington street and stopped. This was in line with a request made by Chief of Police John F. Haven some weeks ago. Apparently the motorists want to cooperate with the chiefs of both police and fire department. When automobiles keep in the way of fire trucks or follow them to fires it handicaps the firemen who hope to save property damage.

Claims Farley Has Given Away Stamps

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—Declaring that Postmaster General Farley has given stamps valued at hundreds of thousands of dollars by stamp collectors to five administration officials, Rep. Millard (R) of New York today introduced a resolution in the house calling for an explanation.

Millard introduced his resolution in the form of a request for an inquiry instead of an investigation so that house leaders could not table it.

Millard told the house that President and Mrs. Roosevelt, Louis M.

Howe, the president's secretary; secretary of the interior, Ickes, and others received stamps.

Tagged As Gifts
Although, he said, they were gifts from Farley, some of them have found their way into the market and are being offered at "fabulous prices."

Souvenirs of the mothers day issuance have been quoted at from twenty thousand to thirty thousand dollars on stamp markets.

Millard quoted a stamp collector as stating that imperforated national park stamps are being quoted at $250 each. The regular price is two or three cents.

AHEPA'S SUMMER CONVENTION TO BE GALA AFFAIR

Chapter Talks Early Plans For Entertaining 4,000; Installs Officers

Two days in late June or early July will soon be selected as dates for the gala New Castle convention of the 10th district of the Order of Ahepa, it was learned today following Sunday's preliminary discussion of the plans by the New Castle chapter, the official host for the summer convention.

Approximately 4,000 Ahepans and their friends, leaders of the local lodge estimated today, will come here for the sessions. The city will be colorfully decorated for the occasion and the convention will likely be held in the Cathedral.

Featuring the Sunday meeting of the organization, held in St. George's Greek Orthodox church, was the installation of 1935 officers. Officiating at the ceremony was Lieutenant Governor Peter Betchunes, Youngstown.

Officers installed were President David Pappas, Vice President John Borovilos, Secretary Speer Marousis and Treasurer James Passias.

The local chapter, according to present plans, will be host to the largest convention of Ahepa's local district and one of the largest to be held here in 1935. A full convention organization is to be named at the group's next meeting on Sunday, February 24.

Huge Class Will Graduate In June

Almost 350 Seniors Now, Principal Reports; Enrollment Is High

"We expect the June class will be one of the largest ever to be graduated by Senior high school," Principal Frank L. Orth declared today as the second semester of the 1934-35 school term moved forward.

As records stand there will be 348 seniors eligible for diplomas at the next commencement, but Mr. Orth made it clear that that figure could be increased or reduced before the summer exercises come.

Classes at the Lincoln avenue building were filled today by hold-over students and by new groups entering yesterday from George Washington and Ben Franklin junior highs and the Mahoning school. No increase was made in the faculty.

Portables to the side of the building will give valuable service this semester, it was said.

Principal Orth announced the total high school enrollment at 1,928. When 200 post graduates show up for their first day of school on Wednesday morning, that figure will jump to 2,128. Add to that the 168 students, regular Senior high sophomores, at the Washington building and the grand Senior high enrollment stands near the 2,300 mark.

Gaibins Pleased With Decoration Job At Franklin

With the work of decorating the Benjamin Franklin Junior High School now completed the director of the work David Gaibins, expressed his appreciation today of the co-operation given him.

"It was a project that was most delightful to work upon," said Mr. Gaibins. "Each day we came a little closer to the picture I had in my mind of the completed job and everybody who had anything to do with it co-operated in a splendid fashion. The school board provided the materials and the RWD provided the labor. The principal of the school, the janitors, everybody connected with it were fine and I want them to know my appreciation."

Mr. Gaibins is ideally qualified for the work he did in the Franklin Junior high school. In his profession as an artistic decorator he has decorated such places as the Roxy Theatre in New York City, the Paramount Theatre in Brooklyn and many others.

This list was made available to those who had subscribed to the Better Housing Campaign locally, last week, and is now open for public inspection.

On Court House Hill

Mrs. Cora M. McElwee, of New Wilmington, has been granted a commission as a notary public, the commission being placed on record at the register and recorder's office.

During the past week there were 54 instruments of all kinds placed on record at the register and recorder's office. This included 22 deeds, some of them being for land sold recently at sheriff sale.

The new well which has been drilled at the county home is much better than the other deep well. The water tank can be filled from the new well in about 37 minutes, whereas it took about five hours to fill it from the old well.

Home Owners Corporation mortgages were placed on record last week to an amount slightly exceeding $52,000. There were 20 mortgages in all. In addition, three totaling $9,870, were given to private parties and two to a trust company.

Officials of the state election bureau estimate that if a special election is held to submit a proposed revision of the state constitution to the voters it would require 26 carloads of paper, or about 1,392,000 pounds, to print the ballots. The present constitution comprises about 390 inches of type set four and three-eighths inches wide. Printing of the new document would fill a page about 38 inches long and 40 inches wide. Four million, eight hundred thousand official ballots and 900,000 specimens would be needed.

This is an off season of the year at the county commissioners' office. There are no road or bridge projects, and work of the board of appeals has been completed. The next big item will be the setting of the county tax millage for the year 1935. There has been a falling off in total valuations and it looks as though it will be hard to make any reduction from last year.

Letters of administration have been issued at the register and recorder's office in the following estates: Robert Wilson, North Beaver township, to J. Harlan Wilson; John Pfeil, Union township, to Margaret M. Bruno, Elizabeth E. Gardner and Robert A. Eckles; Cora Ida Stamm, Shenango township, to C. L. Fombell; Emma Martin, Washington township, to Thomas M. Martin; Howard Kilgore, New Castle, to William H. Kilgore; Joseph Wallace, Scott township, to Della McCracken; Abbie O. Ayers, Pulaski township, to Charles R. Davis; Ernest F. Shook, New Castle, to Florence Shook; Charles A. Wehr, Ellwood City, to Albert Dahl; George H. McCulla, of this city, to Mart

E. McCulla, and Pasquale Volpe, of this city, to Adeline Volpe.

Citizens who may contemplate improvements to their properties under the housing survey which is now under way, need have no fear that their taxes will be raised as a result. Assessments have already been made for the present year, and the taxes for 1935 will be paid on this basis. The remark is sometimes heard that if a house is painted, or a few changes made in the way of improvements, the assessor will come along and raise the valuation. Assurance has been given that there will be nothing like this happen to those who desire to make needed improvements to their properties. It is only where substantial additions are built to a house that there is likely to be any change in the valuation or increase in the tax rate. Painting and minor repairs do not count.

There is considerable sentiment in favor of a change in the methods of assessing city property, so that one assessment in place of two, would be made. At present the city assesses property and upon this assessment the city tax millage is based. The county has an assessor in each ward, and the valuations compiled by these assessors, are taken as the basis for levying the county millage. Generally the city and the county assessments are very nearly the same, giving rise to the assumption that comparisons may have been made. There does not seem to be any good reason for two assessments.

TWO LICENSED AS UNDERTAKERS

Among the successful applicants for licenses as undertakers were two from Lawrence County, the State Board of Undertakers at Harrisburg announced today. Examinations for license were conducted during December.

Orchestra May Play In City Hall

Director Of Buildings J. D.
Alexander To Study City Hall Leases

If proposed plans materialize the Civic orchestra supported by RWD funds will rehearse every afternoon for 10 weeks on the third floor of the city building. Director of Building J. D. Alexander informed councilmen Monday he would study present leases and find out if it is possible to permit the orchestra to hold forth at the city building. A request for $100.00 with which to buy music stands also was submitted. If the appropriation can be made legally the request will be granted.

Now to Relieve.

Medical authorities now tell us that much of the so-called "indigestion" from which so many of us suffer is really acid indigestion. A condition brought on by the acid-forming part of our diet.

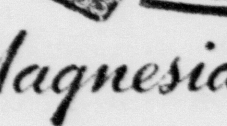

Starches, meats, sweets, too much of such necessary foods form excess acids—felt in annoying pain, "gas" after eating.

But there is now a simple way to relieve this, as your doctor will tell you—often in minutes!

All you do is take a little Phillips' Milk of Magnesia after meals. This acts almost at once to neutralize the stomach acidity that brings on the trouble. You have fewer headaches, upsets, and pain. You "forget you have a stomach!"

Try this just once! Take either the familiar liquid "Phillips'" or the convenient new Phillips' Milk of Magnesia Tablets. But be sure you get the Genuine PHILLIPS' Milk of Magnesia.

Also in Tablet Form:
Phillips' Milk of Magnesia Tablets are now on sale at all drug stores everywhere. Each two-tablet unit is equivalent of a teaspoonful of Genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia.

MRS. HAUPTMANN PREPARES TO GIVE TESTIMONY

May Be Witness During Afternoon

Much Will Hinge On Her
Testimony In Defense Of
Her Husband

SAYS SHE'S READY FOR TRIAL ORDEAL

By MARGARET GARRAHAN
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

FLEMINGTON, N. J., Jan. 29.—Anna Hauptmann is expected to take the witness stand today to write a final chapter to an epochal fight.

Is she ready? She lifts her head, tilts her chin and laughs a reply that is almost a taunt.

"Of course I'm ready. What is there to be ready about? I will tell the truth."

Frail, haggard, stricken little woman who automatically arouses sympathy! She scarcely seems to realize the greatness of this moment.

She scarcely seems able to comprehend just how much depends on her testimony.

To Tell Truth

Yet deep down, one knows, Anna is aware. She watched Anne Lindbergh on that stand with tears in her eyes. She watched Betty Gow. She watched Mrs. Ollie Whately. They all registered, and she knows she must match them all.

Asked how she intended to offset the impression of the three who came to plead for the dead baby, Anna blazed.

"The truth! I will tell everything I know—and when I have told it they will believe," she said.

Suddenly her shoulders slumped, and she bowed her head—and her voice, when it came, was the low cry of a hurt thing.

"I'll do the best I can..."

When she takes the stand today she will have reached the end of her trail. Whether Bruno is damned or freed, she can do no more. From that first day in September when the law reached out and put "her Richard" behind bars for baby Lindbergh's death in New Jersey mire, she has been the moving force behind his defense. Night and day she has been busy, digging far into the past for hope in the present, interviewing everyone, being interviewed, collecting evidence, and through it all, smiling at Bruno, encouraging him, keeping him primed for his ordeal.

But today is her last stand, and when that is over she will have "done her best."

Today

President And Mayor.
One Birthday.
College Girls Marry.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

ONE DAY President Roosevelt and Mayor LaGuardia, of New York, rode on the elevated highway that skirts the North River, carrying New York traffic up and down town. The President asked the Mayor:

"Why don't you build a road like this along the East River?"

The Mayor said to the President: "New York will do it, Mr. President, if the government will help with the money."

The President said to the Mayor: "I'll do that gladly, since it would employ thousands, if you can prove that the enterprise will pay for itself."

IT IS NOW announced that the new road along the East River will be built, a combination roadway and park, giving a million children of the crowded East Side access to the cool breeze in summer, opening up to fresh air the longest stretch of New York's tenement slums.

The plan, interesting to every city, is to have ultimately an uninterrupted driveway all around Manhattan Island. The work will be for all time a monument to President Roosevelt, ten to one the London's "Times" embankment."

THE MAN or boy who has ambition can succeed in the United States. Today is the seventy-first birthday of Charles W. Nash, who represents American success. At seven he was bound out to work for a farmer. At twelve, intelligently, he ran away.

At thirteen, he worked in the fields to buy school books, bought the books and saved enough to buy ten sheep.

He has owned sheep, books and money ever since. He married young, saved always, whether his earnings were big or little, always taking enough vacation to keep his mind fresh.

Now at 71, the depression does not worry him. He has a cash surplus of $30,000,000. And can wish himself "many happy returns."

IN 1890 when college girls were scarce, only three per cent of those with the "bachelor of arts" degrees got married. The percentage has increased steadily and in 1930 fifty-four per cent of the learned young will contribute to the population.

That is good news. We are all put here to work for the future, especially women whose job is creating children that will be the future. Not to marry is to be a deserter.

Men need not be afraid of "brassy girls." There could be no better wife and mother than a good college girl. She is usually extremely sentimental.

However, there are just as many good wives and mothers that never saw a college or high school. The main thing is to get married.

FRIENDS and admirers are surprised to read about Senator Huey Long, surrounded by armed soldiers to prevent his assassination. He, himself, not lean and envious outsiders, suggest the assassination.

The Senator says men of his own state planned to kill him, crippling his automobile, that his enemies might "gang up on him," and end a life devoted to "sharing-the-wealth."

This amazes an outside world which supposed that all Huey Long's neighbors ate from his hand, like the well known pigeon that used to alight on Mohammed's shoulder and eat dried peas from his car.

The "prophet's" believers believed that Allah sent the pigeon down to whisper private messages into Mohammed's ear. Scoffers said Mohammed put the dried peas in his ear, and trained the pigeon to fly down, and "share the peas."

CONSIDER proud Nebraska. Her constitution says that state must never be in debt more than $100,000. At present Nebraska owes not one cent, has a good surplus in the treasury, could spend $1,500,000 on relief work now and not borrow. New Yorkers will wonder how that is managed.

A RARE ten dollar gold piece, that sold at auction for $330, might offer a suggestion for government profit. At that rate, our eight billion dollars worth of gold could be changed into four hundred billion dollars worth, nearly all profit. Who could contradict the government if it said that was the value?

INDUSTRIALISTS that put 25-000,000 automobiles on the roads in this country helped their government last year. The federal tax on gasoline alone paid more than one hundred and seventy million dollars.

Many Visiting Legionnaires To Attend Roundup

Slippery Rock Bugle Corps Will Furnish Music For Initiation Meeting

COMMITTEE IS MAPPING PLANS

Plans are moving forward for the big initiation meeting and roundup, which is being sponsored by the Perry S. Gaston Post, American Legion, for Tuesday evening, February 5, at the Armory here.

The Warren, O., degree team will be present to confer the initiation ceremony of the American Legion on a large class of candidates, and many of the posts in the district will send their new members here to be formally inducted into the order.

Music for the occasion will be furnished by the bugle and drum corps of the Slippery Rock Post, which will be accompanied here by a big delegation of Butler county Legionnaires.

Amzi L. Conn is chairman of the committee in charge of the arrangements for the evening, and other entertainment will be provided during the evening, with refreshments.

This is expected to prove one of the biggest evenings the Perry S. Gaston Post has sponsored in a long time, and Legionnaires are expected present from all over Western Pennsylvania and Eastern Ohio.

Plaids are popular as you know. But even so, a plaid taffeta bathing suit is pretty "splashy" news.

The Sunday School Association of the Highland United Presbyterian church met Monday evening in the home of Prof. and Mrs. C. G. Lindner, Euclid avenue, for the monthly get-together, with the Rev. D. L. Ferguson presiding.

Dr. G. S. Bennett, pastor of the First Christian church, addressed the group, taking as his theme: "Theories of Bible School Teaching," stressing the importance of the teacher in putting the Bible before the scholar.

The musical part of the evening's entertainment was supplied by Anthony Caspero, who played a number of violin selections, accompanied by Elizabeth Koski, who also played piano solos. Richard Johns contributed a group of songs, with Mrs. J. L. Reed as his accompanist.

Plans were made to have Dr. John Orr, of Westminster College, give a course of five studies on "Teacher Training" for the next five months.

To conclude the evening, refreshments were served, the hosts including the Lindners, Miss Ethel Moore, Mrs. John Haven, Mrs. Russell Muder and Richard E. Johns.

Three scouts, Gertrude Mathews, Eleanor Eckles and Dorothy Burton, were awarded silver stars for not missing more than three meetings in the year.

Signalling was studied during the latter part of the meeting. At the next meeting handcraft will be studied.

Scribe, Kathryn Hoover.

A lively round of "Old Dan Tucker opened the meeting of Girl Scout 6, Saturday morning in the City Hall. New patrol leaders were elected in patrol corners as follows: Sara Wilson, Louise Kerr, Dorothy Wallace and Leah Davis.

The various works completed, a formation was made and two new scouts, Elsie Monday and Robinson were inducted. The meeting was closed with taps.

GOVERNOR SUBMITS HIS LABOR PROGRAM

pledged a "new deal" for labor in Pennsylvania, the governor requested prompt action. He also asked the legislature to adopt a resolution pledging the commonwealth's cooperation to the national administration's public works program.

measure fully explored before a vote is taken.

Some Of Provisions
The other administration bill raised the age of employable minors from 14 to 16 and prohibited employment of those under 18 more than 40 hours a week; reduced working hours for women from 54 to 40 hours a week; established wage boards to fix minimum wages for women and minors; abolished industrial police; prohibited private payment of deputy sheriffs; provided strict control of "home work" labor; provided penalties for non-payment of wages by "fly-by-night" employers; and provided for the annual registration of industrial plants with a stipulation that 30 days notice of retirement from business be given.

The bills were immediately referred to house committees scheduled to meet today and under present plans report the bills favorably for passage so they can be given first reading tomorrow. This will make possible a final vote next Tuesday.

Every labor pledge in the Democratic platform except liberalization of the workmen's compensation laws were covered in the measures. The compensation law changes, Earle told the legislature, will be ready for submission next week.

Pickling Republican Bills
Governor Earle's remarks about platform pledges touched off a Republican condemnation of the Democratic majority for not reporting to the floor G. O. P. bills covering labor legislation.

"Stop pickling our bills," pleaded Rep. Morton J. Witkin, Philadelphia, Republican floor leader. Rep. John H. Dent, Westmoreland, replied the great number of Republican resolutions on national affairs was delaying consideration of G. O. P. bills and Rep. Hiram G. Andrews, Cambria, chided the minority for its "sudden reformation" after 40 years in which he asserted it failed to produce social legislation.

Final action on the administration's constitutional bill was delayed last night to permit insertion of a score or more amendments in phraseology. Among the important changes were those providing for registration of voters who have changed residences since last year and obviating the necessity of a special session of the legislature to receive election returns for the deletion of inheritance taxes in the department of revenue, removing $500,000 payroll from the auditor general's department now in Republican control.

The bill to substitute "proper guards" for industrial police was also sent back to committee and Rep. Charles Harmuth, Allegheny, sponsor, submitted instead the administration bill abolishing the industrial police system.

Stockholder Says Steps Must Be Taken To Curb Racing

NATIONAL LEAGUE TEAMS FOR SALE

By PAT ROBINSON International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—Racing is running baseball into the red and if immediate steps are not taken to curb both the ponies and the whips, major league baseball soon will be only a memory.

This doleful prophecy comes—not from the writers—but from a large stockholder in one of the most important clubs in the major leagues. This sportsman, who never makes the headlines and who is in the game only for the fun of it, and who for years has never failed to call the turn on what's going on behind the scenes told the writer today that not one club in the national league will make money this season.

Moreover, he insists that every club in the national league except the Cubs and the Pirates are for sale, and urges an immediate slash in admission prices to cope with the growing rivalry of the race and dog tracks.

Incidentally, he gives a few side-lights that may amaze you. Let me quote him:

"It's rather late for baseball to be adopting a holier-than-thou attitude toward the tracks. The baseball people should have made their fight years ago. Now it may be too late for the very existence of the major leagues is in greater danger than it was immediately after the Black Sox scandal."

"They are hollering only now about Judge Fuchs and his proposal to run a dog track in Braves field but they have conveniently forgotten that the judge had an interest in the dog track at St. Petersburg."

Without Accounts

"Baseball should have got together with the banks long ago to curb the racing evil. Let me show you how a race track with its pari-mutuel betting minks a town. Take the Narragansett Park at Pawtucket, R. I. The Savings bank in Rhode Island discovered that during the race meetings persons whose salary was $14 or less averaged $7 a week in withdrawals from their savings accounts. Naturally they hadn't enough left for necessities. Let alone a luxury like baseball."

"Boston is going to be up against the race game with a vengeance when that new track opens in East Boston which the people can reach for a nickel. The Red Sox and Braves need expect no crowds except on a Sunday while the trick is in operation."

"The only remedy as I see it, is to slash prices. Salaries are not what they were and there should be three times as many 55 cents seats."

New Wilmington And East Brook Will Play Friday

New Wilmington High School To Put On Determined Drive For County Title

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Jan. 29.—New Wilmington high school basketball team will swing into the second half of their county league schedule on Friday night, when they play host to East Brook on the New Wilmington high floor.

Coach Eagleson of the College Towns is priming his boys for this tilt, putting special emphasis this week on the offensive drive which has slowed up considerably in the past two weeks.

These East Brook boys have been improving with each game, and the Blue and Gold will probably have plenty of trouble with the East-brookers. The local lads will keep their eyes on Kendall and Shollar, scoring aces of the East Brook five, who have been displaying a fine brand of ball throughout the year.

Meanwhile the county league is still tied in knots with Bessemer's surprising victory over Ed Rane's Shenango club at the Cement Town last Friday night. Shenango, New Wilmington and Bessemer are all tied up for county supremacy, and an exciting race is anticipated during the second half of the series.

Tommy Jones Starts Training

Former Lightweight Scrapper Wants To Be Fast Referee

PREPARING FOR FEBRUARY SHOW

When a policeman runs there is a reason, so folk, when you're in Wilmington avenue and see Tommy Jones, former lightweight boxer stretching his legs at a 7 or 8 mile an hour speed don't become alarmed and take after him in the hope of seeing him tackle some dangerous criminal instead just mark it down in your ledger book Tommy's gone back into training.

Yes, sir, folks, this Tommy Jones who fought a lot of highly touted lightweights 15 or 20 years ago says he wants to get into good physical condition so he can step around like he did in the days of yesteryear. It looks as though Tommy will be one of the referees at the Police benefit boxing show and he knows that a referee should be as nimble as the fighters.

He commenced doing roadwork yesterday. He runs from Wilmington Avenue to Police headquarters and when he finishes his work in the evening he runs from Police headquarters to his home. Inasmuch as Tommy weighs 135 when he laid out to Chief Haven the more has proved popular and if early indications count there'll be several thousand people see the show.

DOLLAR BILL RETURNS AFTER 25 YEARS' TOUR

(International News Service) FREEPORT, Pa., Jan. 29.—After touring the world for the past 25 years, the first dollar bill issued by the Freeport Farmers' National Bank has come back home, for good.

The bill, issued on September 1, 1908, the first day the bank's doors were opened for business, turned up recently in Bermuda, where it was identified by a hotel manager through marks written on the bill at the time of its issuance, and sent back here. It was returned to Mrs. C. A. Rogers, a daughter of Dr. Charles B. Gillespie, to whom the note was originally issued. At the time, he wrote his name and the date on the bill.

Dempsey Outlines Three Boxing Ills

Would Eliminate Judges In Boxing Shows, Would Limit Commission Powers

Would Pay More Money For Fighters, Takes Back Hand Slap At Garden Officials

By DAVIS J. WALSH International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—There are, if you care to take the word of John Dempsey, who used to be a prize fighter himself, three things wrong with boxing today and only one of them is Madison Square Garden.

The gentleman, interviewed in the midst of the debris incidental to the erection of his new restaurant directly across from the garden, was quite positive on this point, his judgment—so he said—being influenced not at all by the fact that Col. John Kilpatrick has announced himself as being prepared to nominate Mr. Dempsey as permanent referee of future Garden shows at the boxing commission today.

Eliminate Judges

No, John can't be affected by a thing like that, his opinions being strictly his own as follows:

1. Eliminate the judges in boxing.
2. Eliminate unwarranted interference by the boxing commission.
3. Pay a little money for fighters.

"There are plenty of good cards to be had," said Dempsey, eyeing a workman with the air of a proprietor. "I don't blame Jimmy Johnston. Why should I? They offered me the same spot and I wouldn't take it. Why? Because I'd be in the middle, just as Johnston is today. If the Garden wants to be smart, it will give its boxing manager a chance to manage boxing with a free hand. If it wants to be smarter, it will step out and pay money for good fighters."

"They're around but the Garden can't get them with its penny-pinching policy. Why doesn't it take a loss on a couple of shows, just to get the fans coming? It doesn't seem to realize that the best possible advertisement is a good fight. A few of these and you couldn't keep them out with an order from the board of health."

John's idea about the judges is sound, at least in this respect: "Just a lot of political appointees who want the notoriety and the fee."

Walter Patterson and Coach Lee Harlan have the New Castle men in the best of shape for the matches.

STUDENT FORUM
Another departure from the usual theological discussion proved interesting to those in attendance at the Sunday evening service in the M. E. church, when the pastor, M. M. Mook discussed questions presented by the younger folk of the congregation. Such questions as "How Can I Work My Way Through College?" were admirably answered by the pastor and many a perplexing problem was cleared up at the meeting.

MAKE PLAN TO HALT THEFT OF BICYCLES

(International News Service)
READING, Pa., Jan. 29.—In a move to halt the increasing number of thefts of bicycles, Mayor Heber Ermentrout has announced that city council is contemplating legislation compelling all owners to register their two-wheelers.

Steps to enforce registration at a nominal fee were taken by city officials after the police reported that 89 bicycles had been stolen in 1934 and only 13 had been recovered. Registration, it was pointed out, would aid the police in tracing the thefts through license numbers.

URGES LIBRARY IN OLD POST OFFICE

P. O. E. Sisterhood presented a petition to members of city council at the meeting in city hall Monday in which they asked that if the North Mercer street building formerly used as a postoffice can be secured that it be used for library purposes.

FIVE HUNDRED CLUB MEETS
Mrs. Richard Gasser, of Second avenue, proved a pleasing hostess on Thursday evening when she entertained members of the Five Hundred club at their regular monthly meeting.

The hostess served the guests with a delectable menu at an appointed hour. Mrs. James L. Blair invited the club to meet at her home for their next regular meeting.

KOPPEL NOTES
Mrs. James L. Sinclair, of Chicago, Ill., has returned to her home after a visit for several weeks in Koppel and Ellwood City.

Mrs. Lucy DeVincent, Third avenue, will be hostess to members of the M. M. club when they hold their regular monthly meeting Thursday evening.

Dr. Vincent Stewart, of St. Luke's hospital, Cleveland, O., was a weekend visitor at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wade Stewart, Arthur street.

The N. N. K. club held its regular monthly meeting on Thursday, January 24, in their club rooms and routine business was transacted. A social time followed the regular business meeting.

Charles A. Sherman, Jr., Second avenue, has returned home from Philadelphia, where he visited for a few days with relatives. He was accompanied home by his mother who has been visiting in the city for the past three weeks due to the serious illness of her sister.

The Koppel Athletic club will hold its annual banquet in their club rooms on Fifth avenue on Tuesday evening at 7:30. The committee has arranged an excellent program which calls for talks by Burgess Andrew White, Flemming Powkes and the commander of the American Legion Post, W. D. Rossi. Dancing will be enjoyed following the dinner. Members of the committee were Tony Florie, John Ursella and Joseph Gill.

FATHER, SON DISAGREE
Although former Congressman Peter Tague, inset, has been recommended for postmaster of Boston by none other than James Roosevelt, eldest son of the president, as well as Gov. James Curley, President Roosevelt has held up the request because of protests. The move would oust Postmaster William E. Hurley, above, regular civil service postoffice employee, who won promotion to the office after 35 years' service.

Peculiar Phrase In Ransom Note Is Used By Bruno On Stand

COURTROOM, FLEMINGTON, N. J., Jan. 29.—"That was planned for a year already."

These words, strikingly similar to one of the peculiar phrases of one of the Lindbergh ransom notes came tumbling naturally from the lips of Bruno Richard Hauptmann while he was undergoing a rigid cross-examination today by Attorney General David T. Wilentz.

Hauptmann was speaking about a trip he had planned to take to Germany this year (1935). He was saying he wanted to see his elderly mother and suddenly remarked: "That trip was planned for a year, already."

The effect of this strange phrase was lost on Attorney General Wilentz at first. But Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh and his friend, Colonel Henry Breckinridge, stiffened in their seats and conferred in excited whispers. A few minutes later a recess was called. During the recess Lindbergh and Breckinridge conferred with Wilentz and when court was re-convened the attorney general immediately went after this opening.

smoking girl of today was mentioned. "I'm surprised that they don't lose all their hair, smoking those cigarettes," she said. "A corn cob pipe is the only fit thing for a lady to smoke."
